

NOTE FOR M.Sc. STUDENTS

Dear Students,

I am Prof. Rita Kakkar, the new Head of the Chemistry Department. I know that this is a very testing time for all of us. There is uncertainty about when the offline classes will begin. We too miss the teaching sessions with you. Meanwhile, we are making arrangements for online teaching. The classes are most likely to begin next week, around 18 August, 2020, after your result is declared. I am making all efforts to expedite the matter. Meanwhile, please fill up the Google form, whose link is given below:

Please fill up the form as soon as you can, but no later than tomorrow evening (13 August), so that we can allot you your specialization according to your choice and merit. We are working on the best way to conduct the practical sessions, too, so that you do not miss out on anything. We'll try to make the sessions as interesting as possible.

Looking forward to seeing you soon (virtually),

Professor Rita Kakkar
